OVERVIEW

Candace L. Matson is a partner in Sheppard Mullin's Los Angeles office where she specializes in construction law.

Advocacy

Ms. Matson represents owners, lenders, contractors, subcontractors, design professionals and others as an advocate in a wide range of private and public contexts relating to construction. The subject of such representation includes:

Preconstruction phase: assistance with requests for proposals and bid packages; prosecuting and defending against bid protests; negotiation, drafting and review of contracts for construction, architectural and engineering services, construction management, and procurement services; advice regarding construction loans, insurance (title and liability), and surety issues and licensing.

Construction phase: advice regarding contract compliance, project documentation, and mechanic's lien law; early dispute resolution.

Post-construction phase: mediation, arbitration and litigation of disputes, including extra and changed work claims; delay, disruption and acceleration claims; design professionals' liens, mechanic's lien and stop notice claims; construction defect claims (including water intrusion and mold issues); insurance and surety bond claims; assistance with title insurance issues, including obtaining defense, indemnity and clean title.

Service as Neutral

Ms. Matson serves as an arbitrator and mediator of construction disputes, both privately and through the auspices of various ADR providers.
