OVERVIEW

Nathaniel Bruno is an associate in the Intellectual Property Practice Group in the firm's San Francisco and Silicon Valley offices. Mr. Bruno has broad experience in a variety of business litigation disciplines (including IP, labor and employment, real estate, construction, and commercial litigation) that contributes to his effectiveness as a litigator and negotiator. His diligence and the quality of his legal representation have twice earned him the firm's Clients First Award. He also serves on the firm's Pro Bono Committee, leading numerous compassionate pro bono efforts.

Areas of Practice

Mr. Bruno focuses on intellectual property litigation, prosecuting and defending patent, trademark and copyright infringement matters, and trade secret misappropriation matters. Mr. Bruno has extensive experience in all aspects of litigation, serving manufacturing, retail, technology, construction, entertainment and media, financial institution, and other business and commercial clients. His purpose is clear: achieve the best possible result for every client.

Mr. Bruno is active in pro bono service, having worked with programs organized or clients referred by the Children At Risk Committee of the San Diego Bar Association, the San Diego Volunteer Lawyer Program, Public Counsel of Los Angeles, Children of the Night in Southern California, the Homeless Advocacy Project of San Francisco, the Housing Negotiation Project of San Francisco, and Legal Services for Children of San Francisco. He successfully sued a criminal pimp in a first-of-its-kind lawsuit under California's civil human trafficking prevention statute. He also assists families in the adoption of children who need loving homes.

Mr. Bruno also is a professional musician who has performed instrumentally (French horn) and/or vocally with the Oakland East Bay Symphony, San Diego Symphony, La Jolla Symphony, Peninsula Symphony, Integrity Wind Quartet, and various theaters and venues throughout California.
