

AEROSPACE AND DEFENSE

Sheppard Mullin has a team of professionals focused on corporate transactions in the aerospace and defense industries. We know and represent industry players (strategics, private equity groups and middle market companies) on the "buy side," "sell side," and in connection with reorganizations through divestitures, auctions, recapitalizations or other restructuring.

Our attorneys have 100+ years combined experience serving aerospace and defense industry clients and have worked on all types of matters including M&A, joint ventures, and public and private offerings. We know the industry and the environment in which participants compete. We understand the business challenges and legal issues.
