Hao-Ling Yau, Senior Associate, Holman Fenwick Willan
Hao-Ling specialises in commercial litigation, with particular focus on fraud, banking, corporate and personal insolvency and shipping. She has worked on various complex, multi-jurisdictional disputes, acting for a range of clients including banks, insurers, ship-owners, charterers and other corporations. Hao-Ling has substantial experience in advising on competition law both in the UK and Hong Kong and has recently given multiple talks on the Hong Kong Competition Ordinance. She also regularly advises on insolvency matters and has acted for liquidators and creditors in high-profile insolvencies. Prior to joining the Hong Kong office, Hao-Ling worked in the firm’s London and Shanghai offices. She read Law at King’s College London and is qualified as a solicitor in England and Wales and Hong Kong. As well as English, she speaks Mandarin and Cantonese.

Guy Hardaker, Partner, Holman Fenwick Willan
Guy is a Partner in the firm’s Hong Kong office. He has an unusually broad practice, covering energy, commodities, utilities and arbitration, reflecting his experience in the firm’s London, Singapore and Hong Kong offices. He has represented the largest electricity company in Hong Kong, spanning contractual, regulatory and litigation issues over the past 25 years. He also represents one of the four mobile operators in Hong Kong on a range of regulatory, competition and licensing matters, which have tracked the changes from 2G in 1992 to 4G. Guy is qualified as a solicitor both in England & Wales and Hong Kong.

Philip Monaghan, Executive Director (General Counsel) Hong Kong Competition Commission
Mr. Philip Monaghan was appointed to the position of Executive Director (General Counsel) of the Competition Commission (Commission) in June 2014. Immediately prior to his appointment to the Commission, Mr. Monaghan was in private practice in Hong Kong with an international law firm advising Hong Kong businesses, Asian companies and global multinationals on competition law issues arising under antitrust laws worldwide. Before relocating to Hong Kong in 2007, Mr. Monaghan worked in the competition and economic regulatory departments of international legal practices in London and Brussels. With over a decade of experience in competition law, his practice work has covered restrictive agreements and cartels, abuse of market power matters and multi-jurisdictional merger control. Mr. Monaghan was admitted as a solicitor in Hong Kong in 2009. He is also admitted as a solicitor in England and Wales and in the Republic of Ireland.

Knut Fournier, Chairperson, Hong Kong Competition Association
Knut Fournier is currently the Chairman of the Hong Kong Competition Association. Until recently, he was teaching law at the City University of Hong Kong. Prior to moving to Hong Kong, Knut worked as a monitoring trustee for competition authorities in Europe, in the United States, in Brazil and in China. During his nearly three years as a trustee, Knut worked on cases covering a variety of sectors, including banking, manufacturing, food, retail, aviation, music, and mining. He designed compliance programmes for traders and trained staff on competition compliance, in the context of remedies imposed by the European Commission and by national competition authorities. He published extensively on competition law, including recently on Hong Kong telecom merger remedies, and on competition policy and the Hong Kong broadcasting sector. He holds law degrees from the University of Paris and from King College London. Knut is currently finishing a PhD on Hong Kong Competition Law at the University of Leiden, and was an Academic Visitor at the University of Oxford.

Tsuyoshi (Yoshi) Ikeda, Attorney at Law, Mori Hamada & Matsumoto
Tsuyoshi (Yoshi) Ikeda is an antitrust counsel at Mori Hamada & Matsumoto. As a former official of the Investigation Bureau of the Japan Fair Trade Commission (JFTC), Yoshi has extensive experience in all aspects of antitrust/competition issues, including cartels, merger filings, and distribution issues in both domestic and international (multi-jurisdictional) arenas. At the JFTC, he engaged in, among others, the implementation of the leniency program in Japan and a number of dawn raids (on-site inspections).

Yoshi has been representing multinational companies before the JFTC in international cartel and second phase review merger cases. Yoshi also advises on IP-related antitrust issues such as licensing, and cases involving standard-essential patents (SEPs), making the best use of his experience as an investigator in the IP/IT Taskforce at the JFTC. He has additional expertise in consumer protection issues, such as misleading advertisements, as well as anti-bribery issues. Yoshi has been listed as a leading expert (NGA) for the JFTC and IBA.

Yoshi is a graduate of Kyoto University (LLB, 2002) and University of California, Berkeley, School of Law (Boalt Hall) (LLM, 2008). He is admitted in Japan, New York and California. He was a lecturer at Kindai University and is a specially appointed professor at Kanazawa Institute of Technology. His comments have been frequently quoted in the most popular financial newspaper in Japan, the Nikkei, for more than fifteen times.

Nathan (Nate) Bush heads DLA Piper’s Investigations and Antitrust and Competition practices in Asia. Nate practiced in Beijing for eight years from 2004 through 2012, and has covered the region from Singapore since 2013. He focuses on internal investigations, regulatory enforcement, and compliance involving anti-bribery and anti-corruption (ABAC), competition, market misconduct, and international trade matters. He has conducted investigations in China, Indonesia, India, Malaysia, Japan, South Korea, Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia, and other jurisdictions, and routinely advises on compliance elements of capital markets, M&A, private equity, and venture capital transactions in Asia. Nate provides strategic guidance on multi-jurisdictional merger reviews and antitrust enforcement matters. He cochairs the Legal and IP Committee of the American Chamber of Commerce in Singapore, and previously served as Legal Committee Chairman (2008) and General Counsel (2009-2011) of the American Chamber of Commerce in China. Nate is a graduate of Harvard Law School and the University of Virginia.
