

→ Brett D. Young

Associate

333 South Hope Street
Forty-Third Floor
Los Angeles, CA 90071

T: +1.213.617.4187

F: +1.213.443.2853

byoung@sheppardmullin.com

Brett Young is an associate in the Labor and Employment Practice Group in the firm's Los Angeles office.

Areas of Practice

Brett defends employers from a variety of industries in single plaintiff and class action litigation involving federal and state labor and employment laws, including matters relating to discrimination, harassment, retaliation, and wage and hour violations. Brett has litigated and advised clients in all phases of litigation, including through trial, and also works with clients to prevent litigation by advising employers on employment practices, such as new hire issues, internal investigations, employee discipline, and other personnel decisions. Brett also regularly counsels employers regarding payroll and timekeeping matters, meal and rest period requirements, compliance issues, and other miscellaneous legal matters.

As part of his practice, Brett also provides mandatory AB 1825 sexual harassment training for employers.

Articles

Labor and Employment Law Blog Posts

- "Alvarado v. Dart Container Corporation of California," March 9, 2018
- "Unfair Scheduling: How New York City's New Predictive Scheduling Law Continues The Trend And Makes Operations More Difficult For Employers," June 7, 2017
- "DOL Finally Has Its Leading Guy," April 28, 2017

Practices

Class Action Defense

Labor and Employment

Labor and Employment Counseling

Labor and Employment Litigation

Education

J.D., Loyola Law School, 2015, magna cum laude; Order of the Coif; Sayre MacNeil Scholar; Note and Comment Editor, Loyola of Los Angeles Law Review

B.A., University of California, Santa Barbara, 2012

Admissions

California