Please join us for a lively and informative discussion regarding the many labor and employment law developments for 2008, including a review of a number of important cases currently pending before the California Supreme Court. We will discuss developments of particular interest to California employers, including:

- Wage and Hour issues
- Expense reimbursement requirements
- California's new sexual harassment training law
- No-match letters
- Trade secrets and unfair competition
- Disability law
- Arbitration agreements
- Document retention policies
- California's new military leave law for spouses

- Class action trends
- Misclassification of employees as independent contractors
