Experience

If a project is exciting and innovative, the chances are Sheppard Mullin is involved.

- Strategic Alliances – In 2015, we put together the multi-billion dollar national joint venture between Trinity Health and Heritage to transform Trinity Health hospitals into global risk over the next few years. We partnered Mt. Sinai, Montefiore, Optum Health and other leading New York institutions in a joint ventured proton beam center. We represented Heritage in a strategic alliance to develop risk-based physician networks in a population health management initiative. We helped Paladin Capital and Howard University Hospital form an alliance to improve Howard’s community healthcare delivery system and inject needed resources into the health system.
- Vertical Integration – We are working with payors on innovative vertical integration transactions, including representing a leading Medicaid health plan as it manages or acquires hospitals focused on managed Medicaid patients, and a leading Blue Cross Blue Shield plan on building a new “third network” delivery system in partnership with a large medical group to unite a number of separate physician groups into a shared delivery system to compete with dominant hospital centered delivery systems in the area.
- Population Health Management – With deep roots in this sector, we have represented four of the five most successful, established population health management/coordinated care companies, as well as a range of private equity backed new entrants. We know what models work and what doesn’t, how to accelerate adoption and success and how to contract successfully.
- The Rise of Medicaid – With Medicaid expansion, industry participants are searching for a Medicaid strategy that works. We have been helping clients build managed Medicaid networks, obtain Medicaid HMO licenses, participate in DSRIP projects, acquire safety net hospitals, and acquire or build Medicaid physician networks.
- The Consolidation of Hospital-Based Medicine – We have closed on more than a billion dollars of transactions in the anesthesia, emergency medicine and hospitalist sectors in the past two years, with consolidation happening at an accelerating pace as private equity and public companies aggressively are pricing physician groups and reconfiguring delivery systems.
- Risk-Adjustment Matures – We are helping multiple payors and physician groups institute sophisticated risk-adjustment programs for both Medicare Advantage and commercial exchange products. The California focus on HCC-RAF is becoming of interest nationally, and we are working with many clients on instituting best practices and maximizing quality and reimbursement.
- Behavioral Health Focus – Given mental health parity in the Affordable Care Act, there now is a greater focus among payors and providers in fixing our behavioral health system. We are advising on integrated behavioral health models and bringing the equivalent of a “primary care medical home” model to behavioral health. We have worked with behavioral health provider networks, MSOs and carve-out plans.
- Addressing End-of-Life and Post-Acute Care – We represent more than 150 hospice companies nationally and works with payors, hospitals, skilled nursing facilities, home health companies, physician groups and hospices to improve the post-acute and end of life aspects of the care continuum. We are helping establish risk-based contracts for post-acute care, bundled payment programs that reduce step-down facility utilization and improve outcomes and innovative approaches for hospices to succeed in receiving appropriate reimbursements.

- Health Information Technology – Whether it's installation of an electronic health records system, health information exchange or enterprise-wide system, Sheppard Mullin works with leading health systems, payors and physician entities to improve the successful implementation of projects that can cost in the tens of millions of dollars. We recently have advised on "Big Data," patient engagement, data commercialization and analytics, mobile health, real-time monitoring programs and other exciting innovations.
