

How 'Leaving Neverland' puts Michael Jackson's cultural legacy and $2 billion empire in jeopardy

The Washington Post
03.04.2019

Century City partner Adam Streisand comments on the recently released Michael Jackson documentary "Leaving Neverland" and the lawsuit filed against it by Jackson's family. He noted that the $100 million lawsuit is "putting a price tag on what they think these allegations are going to do. If people are turning away in droves from other very famous people and their work, is the same thing going to happen to Michael Jackson? Clearly the estate thinks so."

Attorneys

Adam F. Streisand