Nate Barbara is an associate in the Real Estate, Energy, Land Use & Environmental Practice Group and a member of the Energy, Infrastructure and Project Finance Team in the firm's San Diego (Del Mar) office.

Areas of Practice

Nate's practice focuses on renewable energy transactions with emphasis on debt and tax equity financing of solar, wind, and battery storage projects. He also advises parties in M&A transactions involving renewable projects and represents lenders and sponsors at all stages of project development.

In addition to his renewable energy practice, Nate represents pro bono clients in immigration and conservation matters.

Prior to law school, Nate gained legal experience working as a clerk at several different law firms throughout his hometown of San Diego. While in law school, he participated in the Hale Moot Court Honors Program and played on USC's Supreme Court basketball team.
