Join your colleagues May 12-13, 2016 at The Ritz-Carlton, Pentagon City in Arlington, Virginia as the ABA Health Law Section, ABA Section of Antitrust Law and the American Health Lawyers Association join together to present the 2016 Antitrust in Healthcare Conference.

The Antitrust in Healthcare Conference continues its rich 25-year tradition with this jointly sponsored program. The conference brings together an expert faculty made up of the leading government enforcers, private counsel representing both plaintiffs and defendants, and economists to share their insights and offer both practical advice and policy recommendations. With healthcare reform and increased government enforcement, there have been a number of important developments since the conference was last held in 2014, and we hope to see you this spring to share the most timely and significant information on key antitrust issues affecting the healthcare industry.
