About:

We are in recession, and it is likely to be a long slog back. How should the players address their distressed assets? In this webinar, we will take a deep dive into the remedies and opportunities available to property owners, venture partners, and lenders. This will include a robust discussion on refinancing, workouts, receiverships, and adaptive reuse—led by acknowledged experts in finance, law, receivership, and market economics, with a focus on each asset class and the overall state of the market.
