Sheppard Mullin Participant:

Jonathan Aronie, Partner, Government Contracts, Investigations, and International Trade Practice Group

About:

False claims in the sale of goods and services is where the False Claims Act got its start. The panel will discuss recent procurement fraud cases in the Department of Defense, General Services Administration and Department of Energy arenas and where this ever- consequential area of practice may go next.

More Information:

The Civil False Claims Act (FCA) is the one of the fastest growing areas of federal litigation, with settlements and judgments totaling billions of dollars each year. The National Institute on the Civil False Claims Act and Qui Tam Enforcement will bring together specialists from all areas—U.S. Department of Justice, state attorney general offices, leading defense and qui tam whistleblower firms—to discuss this ever-growing area of litigation and enforcement.
