

Sheppard Mullin Publishes Digital Reference Guide To Help Employers Navigate Various Work Visas

12.12.2019

Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP has published “U.S. Visas”, a pocket guide to help companies easily understand the different visa options available to their foreign national talent if they need to work in the U.S.

“As companies become more global, their workforces become more international as well,” said Sheppard Mullin partner Greg Berk, author of the guide and a Certified Specialist in Immigration and Nationality Law from the State Bar of California, Board of Legal Specialization. “That often means their talent needs to work in the U.S. for a period of time. This short pocket guide helps companies navigate the various and complex U.S. employment-based visa options.”

The 17-page pocket guide is free and can be viewed online here. Sheppard Mullin also has a robust business immigration practice that assists clients with strategic visa planning and immigration compliance.
