

Brett Kavanaugh said Congress should hold presidents accountable. William Barr agreed.

The Washington Post
03.09.2019

Jonathan Meyer comments on the Mueller probe and congressional oversight saying, "At times, a counsel's investigation and a congressional oversight committee may overlap, but each has its own boundaries. Neither has unlimited power or jurisdiction. The committee is limited by constitutional issues."

Practice Areas

Public Policy and Government Affairs